Szczecin gets new concert hall

PR dla Zagranicy 04.09.2014 14:29

Designed by Spanish architects and built partly with EU funds, it is a spectacular project, seating 1, 200 in its two concert venues, and having all the state-of-the-art facilities.

Interviewed shortly before the inaugural concert, Ewa Strusinska, Music Director of the Szczecin Philharmonic Orchestra, says; "All my players are over the moon with the possibilities and chances we'd been given. Acoustics-wise, our hall stands the chance to become one of the best concert halls in this part of the world'.

Ewa Strusinska is one of Europe's leading women conductors. From 2008 to 2010 she held the position of Assistant Conductor of the Halle Orchestra in Manchester.
